

TELEWORK DECISION TREE

EXAMPLES:

- Telework one or two days per week.
- Sharing duties between two or more employees who perform like-job functions so that there is always someone on-site performing in-person functions.

CONSIDERATIONS:

Prior to initiating a request, have the following conditions been met?

- Has the employee completed a successful probationary period? Exceptions are only for those positions in which telework is a condition of employment. Otherwise, do not fill out the telework request until the probationary period has been completed.
- If the work location is outside Vermont (another state or outside the U.S.), contact Payroll & Tax Services at least 30-days prior to submitting a telework request.

CONSIDERATIONS:

- Can the essential job duties be performed via telework? For example, forward facing positions reuiring interaction with students, supervisees, or clients on campus may be required to be performed in-person. Positions that require the use of specialized equipment only available onsite cannot perform these functions remotely.
- Can the unit maintain quality of service for the University community if the employee is not working in-person (students, faculty, staff, etc.)?
- Are the job duties such that an employee can maintain the expected quantity and quality of work via telework?

CONSIDERATIONS:

- Has the employee successfully completed the required probationary period?
- Has the employee demonstrated job performance and work habits consistent with telework success?
- Can the employee maintain the expected quantity and quality of work while teleworking?

CONSIDERATIONS:

- Will the unit be able to continue/enhance community and team spirit?
- Will the unit be able to support an efficient working relationship between in-person and remote employees?

CONSIDERATIONS:

- Is the employee's space suitable, safe, and ergonomically correct?
- Does the employee have access to consistent/stble wireless/internet/cell service?
- Does the employee have equipment needs related to a reasonable accommodation?
- If the employee needs to access, use, or disclose NPPD, has the employee been issued a UVM owned or managed device?
- Does the employee have a private/secure space in which to work?
- Does the employee have adequate equipment, supplies, and furniture available to perform their job duties?
